FROM THE RABBI

THE SPIRITUALITY OF IMPERFECTION

Rabbi Gelb faces the gathering of staff members at Camp Ramah in Palmer, Massachusetts, on a balmy June evening. It is a few days before the campers arrive. Staff Week is the time a disparate collection of counselors are woven into a team who will be responsible for the safety, well-being, personal growth and joyful summer experience of hundreds of children. What would he say to us? How would he set the tone of the summer? What goals and priorities would he outline? After more than a decade away from camp, I am curious.

Years ago, I recall one of his first talks, based on famed basketball coach John Wooden's "Pyramid of Success." In that talk, Rabbi Gelb spoke about the hierarchy of needs, beginning with basic safety and daily well-being, and ascending into higher values, including teamwork, spiritual growth and love of Judaism. The director emphasized that unless the basic levels are accomplished, none of the higher goals would matter. Unless the children coming under our care can be safe and healthy, nothing else of importance can be accomplished. The most basic goals are, in a sense, the highest goals. He went on to propose that we err when we simply tell kids they are good or provide them with entertainment they passively consume. Much more powerful is

Don't Miss the Special Musical Selichot on September 17!

The Emanuel Synagogue is excited to bring vocalist Galeet Dardashti and her multi-sensory project "Monajat," for Selichot, on Saturday, Sept. 17, 2022, at 8:00 p.m.

Haunting recordings of the Jewish prayers of Selichot chanted by Dardashti's Iranian grandfather Yona Dardashti, a master singer of Persian classical music, inspire and waft through Dardashti's presentation. She reinvents the musical ritual of Selichot using digital technology to perform with an ensemble of Middle Eastern and jazz musicians.

The ritual event envelopes audiences with Persian melodies, poetic Hebrew texts, electronic soundscapes and video art. In conjunction with the live performance of "Monajat," video artist and designer Dmitry Kemell generates images in real time that float across multiple screens.

The Emanuel Synagogue is the host of this year's community-wide Selichot service, which will follow the presentation, at 9:00 p.m. Members of Beth El Temple and B'nai Tikvoh Sholom will join us. Beth El and B'nai Tikvoh Sholom are co-sponsors of the program. There is no cost to attend this special evening at The Emanuel. Donations are always appreciated.

FROM THE PRESIDENT WHO BY FIRE

Our Yom Kippur liturgy which appears late in the Musaf services reminds us of the fragility of life. Leonard Cohen's song, "Who By Fire," tracks the language of the Unetaneh Tokef prayer. This song was a favorite of our Hazzan Sanford Cohn, of blessed memory. He loved Leonard's words and music because they reflect a gentle approach to spirituality and even a questioning of our beliefs. The song's lyrics are a riff on the words of the prayer but they are followed in each verse with the haunting question, Who Shall I Say is Calling? This line injects an element of doubt in the otherwise faithful reading of Unetaneh Tokef.

Do we get another year? If not, how will that unfold? How many will pass on and how many will be born, who will live and who will die? We ask these questions knowing there are no answers. We are not likely to be able to predict the future. Much of it is out of our hands. But we can predict our intentions. We know whether we have the intention to do Tikkun Olam, to repair the world, this year. We can inject that into our plans. We know if we intend to perform acts of loving kindness — this year, today, tomorrow. We already know whether we intend to see the good in every living creature.

While we renew our vows this year and ask for forgiveness of our sins of last year, let us focus on what we can control going forward: our intentions to do good in the world and allow destiny or fate or God to do what she will. My wish for you on these High Holy Days of Awe is that you render unto God what is God's and render unto yourself the taking care of yourself and your loved ones and bringing your own love and kindness into our world.

L'Shana Tovah Tikatevu!
— Ken Simon

L'DOR VADOR

I am sharing this remembrance and thoughts of gratitude expressed at a recent Bat Mitzvah in Vermont. Thank you to my friend and president of Beth El Temple, Steve Rabb, for sharing the following, delivered by Rena Citron. It is clear evidence that we often get it right. — Ken Simon Shabbat shalom.

The Torah which Emma will be reading from this morning is special for our family, and I want to share the story behind it with you before she reads.

My siblings and I only learned the story in April during our mom's funeral.

Rabbi Emeritus Phillip Lazowski officiated at the funeral. He has known our family for generations, having served as rabbi for my grandparents, parents and siblings.

He recalled that our paternal grandparents — Emma's great-great-grandparents, Hyman and Lena Cohen — donated this Torah to the newly built Beth Shalom Synagogue in 1954. This was the synagogue's first Torah scroll, and he was their first rabbi. He also related that our grandmother traveled with him to New York to purchase this special Torah.

The Torah was relocated several times as a result of synagogue mergers, finally residing at The Emanuel Synagogue in West Hartford, which coincidentally is located two doors from the home where Shelly grew up.

Rabbi Lazowski, now in his 90s, is their Rabbi Emeritus. I called him to inquire where the Torah was, and he told me it was in storage at the Emanuel and could be easily identified because it was the smallest Torah there.

It was the beginning of my quest to bring the Torah to Vermont for this service.

I called Ken Simon, the synagogue president, who enthusiastically endorsed the idea.

I reached Rabbi Lazowski while he was on vacation, and he told me where to find it. I called Moshe Pinchover, the synagogue's ritual director, and together we identified the scroll, and he loaned it to me.

So, today, Emma will read from that Torah, the one which her great-great-grandparents donated in 1954. L'Dor Vador — from generation to generation.

SUKKOT HOME OBSERVANCE

The Festival of Sukkot offers several opportunities for home observances.

-  Blessing and waving the arba minim, a.k.a. the lulav and etrog, can be done every day of the Festival except on Shabbat. Sitting in the sukkah can be done any day of the festival.
-  Don't own a lulav and etrog? Come use the set we have at The Emanuel.
-  Don't have a sukkah this year? Visit a friend or neighbor who has one. Also, the sukkah at The Emanuel is available for you.
-  Eating a meal or snack and even sleeping in the sukkah enhances the fulfillment of the mitzvah, "To dwell in the sukkah."

The blessings that are said for each of these mitzvot are included below:

the sense of self-respect a camper attains by accomplishing something, learning a new skill, making an item in arts class, competing together on a team sport and learning to lead a prayer. I was impressed by this directed, excellence-oriented approach.

Consequently, I was intrigued and mildly surprised when Rabbi Gelb opened his talk this Staff Week with a reference to a new book entitled, “The Spirituality of Imperfection.” In this book, he explained, the authors encourage us to overcome our fear of making a mistake. Feeling we need to be perfect can paralyze us or worse, lead us to be less than honest with others and ourselves when we make a mistake. Embracing and learning from our mistakes is a key to growth and improvement. Accepting failure leads to success. Kids today are under all kinds of pressure from school, society, social media and the crises of the world around them. In addition to keeping them safe and healthy, our role is to create an emotionally and socially safe environment for our campers to try new skills, make new friends and learn from their mistakes.

Approaching the Yamim Noraim, the High Holy Days, Rabbi Gelb’s talk on “The Spirituality of Imperfection” continues to resonate with me. Here is a way of framing the inner and outer work of the Season of Repentance toward a positive direction. Delving into our many mistakes and failures in the past year and in our lives to date, we gain the opportunity to transcend the suffering we experience as a result of those failures and develop the will and hopefulness to envision doing better in the coming year and in the years ahead.

Sometimes these changes are incremental, other times; we experience a profound transformation that changes the direction and quality of our lives. If we commit to the process, these Awesome Days offer us the opportunity to conduct a “chesbbon nefesh,” a “soul accounting” to embrace our mistakes and failures as guideposts to doing better. Relinquishing the shame and emotional pain born of our need to be perfect and our fear of failure, we are paradoxically better equipped to succeed when we acknowledge how we have failed. May this season be one of inner courage, compassionate self-honesty and hopeful growth for us all.

Debbie and our family join me in wishing our Emanuel Family a “L’Shanah Tovah Tikateivu!” May you all be written into the Book of Life for a Good Year!

— Rabbi David J. Small

HILLEL ALEX B. LEBED FAMILY FUND

Dear Emanuel Family,

During these challenging times, I want to ensure you all know about an important synagogue fund — the Beth Hillel Alex B. Lebed Family Fund.

The Beth Hillel Alex B. Lebed Family Fund was established many years ago by Alex's parents, Hank and Anne Lebed, to provide financial assistance for professional help to members (or members of their families) experiencing psychological and emotional issues (with a preference for youth). The Fund makes distributions for: professional counseling and services if there is a financial need; to assist a child in crisis; and/or to assist a family experiencing difficult emotional and behavioral issues. The fund has also been used for educational purposes (for example, a program on learning how to recognize mental health issues). Decisions regarding distributions are made by a committee that includes Rabbi Small, the synagogue president (or his or her designee), a nurse, several social workers and a psychiatrist.

We have been able to help multiple families. The Fund is held at the Jewish Community Foundation and has grown during the years.

If you or a loved one needs financial assistance, please contact Rabbi David Small at 860.236.1275 or me, Shirley Morrison, Committee Chair, at 860.527.8731 to discuss the availability of funds for help. Per Hank's request, all personal details will be kept in strict confidence (no names will be shared by the initial contact with members of the Committee). The Committee administering the Fund's sole objective is to provide monies to a family needing help. The Committee is also discussing holding an educational program such as the one described above.

Please do not hesitate to contact me with any questions.

Stay well,
Shirley Morrison

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL NEWS

by Barbara Fink

I often talk about Rick Recht's song "Laasok B'divrei Torah" at the beginning of the school year. The title literally means to deal with the Torah and it is also the end of the blessing that we say before studying Torah. We always begin our Religious School year with reciting this bracha, which helps us remember there is a connection between what we do every day and being Jewish. I absolutely love the chorus because it says exactly that:

It's everything we do, everything we say
Everything we are Laasok b'divrei Torah, Torah,
Laasok b'divrei Torah
It's what we do, what we say,
It's how we live our lives with meaning every day.

We are preparing to welcome a new tenant to our building which will bring some new challenges and opportunities for us as a kehillah. First, as we have rented out our library space, we have had to make some physical changes. With gratitude to Jennifer Molinari, you will see we have made the hallway in the Religious School wing into our very own Jewish children's library. Jewish books line the walls and are now accessible to kids of all ages from birth-teen years at all times. It has brightened up what once was a dull hallway.

Next, our kids will once again have the opportunity to learn about the Jewish values of bachnasat orchim (welcoming the guest) and kavod (respect) as we share our space with guests of the Children's Museum and use some of their classroom space on Sundays. We will have to be mindful again that not all supplies belong to us, and we need to be respectful of other's property.

We are hoping we will be able to collaborate with the museum to bring you some new and innovative family programs and are looking forward to forming a new chaverut (friendship) with them.

I am excited that some of our annual programs will be back this fall, including in-person Family Services, Tashlich at Camp Shalom, Pizza in the Hut, Simchat Torah celebration, and The Haunted Shul, to name a few. We will continue to usher in Shabbat together on Zoom during Shabbat Babayit.

I look forward to seeing you all and learning with you and your children again this year!

ADULT EDUCATION NEWS

by Ona Mastronarde

In July, the Adult Education Committee presented a virtual tour of the new ANU – Museum of the Jewish People in Tel Aviv. We were able to see many of the exhibits and get a taste of what we would experience if we got the chance to visit in person.

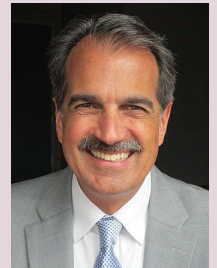

For the 2022-2023 year, the Emanuel Adult Education Committee will be co-sponsoring an exciting eight-part series on Zoom: "Jewish History from Biblical Times to the Present." Programs will be once a month, Thursday nights, Sept. 15-April 27, at 8:30 p.m. See details on the first two presentations below.

Rabbi Small will begin fall study with the Natalie Ziplow Study Group Thursday, Sept. 22, using both traditional texts and current events.

COMING UP:

- Thursday, Sept. 15, 8:30 p.m.

Gary Rendsburg, Distinguished Professor of Jewish Studies and History, and Blanche and Irving Laurie Chair in Jewish History, Rutgers University, will present, "In Search of Ancient Israel: Historical Roots of the Biblical Narrative."

Prof. Gary Rendsburg

- Thursday, Oct. 6, 8:30 p.m.

Carol Meyers, Mary Grace Wilson Professor Emerita of Religious Studies, Duke University, will discuss, "Women as Ritual Experts in Ancient Israel."

Prof. Carol Meyers

- The Natalie Ziplow Study Group with Rabbi Small will resume Thursday mornings at 10:30 a.m., beginning Sept. 22. All are welcome!

Please check your weekly Emanuel Updates, the Emanuel Synagogue website, and the Emanuel Mishpacha Facebook page for information on upcoming programs and registration links. We remind you that pre-registration is required for Emanuel Adult Education programs on Zoom in order to ensure a secure and meaningful experience. Participants must register on the link provided in the weekly Updates or on the Emanuel website. When possible, recordings of programs will be available on the Emanuel website, by scrolling down to the bottom of the page and clicking on the red YouTube button.

MEET EMANUEL'S NEW STUDENT RABBI, SASSOON ("SASS") OROL BROWN

The Emanuel Synagogue is excited to announce the appointment of our next Student Rabbi, Sassoon "Sass" Orol Brown (they/them), a third-year rabbinical student at The Jewish Theological Seminary in New York.

Sass will conduct our Youth and Family High Holy Day services and will come to Emanuel one weekend a month during the school year to work with our young people and to support services and learning for all ages. Sass will also serve Emanuel via online access on a weekly basis, including Shabbat Babayit on Fridays at 5:30 p.m., and weekly adult Torah study on Shabbat afternoons.

Before coming to New York, Sass grew up and worked in the Jewish community in Raleigh, NC. Sass ran youth groups and programs for Beth Meyer Synagogue, taught Jewish music at the shul's preschool, and worked as the song leader for their childhood JCC day camp. Sass also organized with Carolina Jews for Justice.

In summer 2021, Sass completed their first unit of Clinical Pastoral Education, working as a chaplain intern for The Fortune Society and The New Jewish Home. During this past school year, they worked as a Slifka-Nadich rabbinical student intern with USY, and served as the advisor to USY's Jews of Color, Indigenous, Sephardi, and Mizrahi teen cohort. Sass participated in JTS's first Gender, Torah, and Tradition Fellowship. They were also selected for a Wexner Graduate Fellowship.

Sass studied Communications and Creative Writing at UNC-Chapel Hill, where they received an Academy of American Poets prize. Sass also earned a Masters of Fine Arts in Creative Writing from North Carolina State University. While at NC State, they wrote a book of queer and Jewish-themed poetry called "The Shortest Skirt in Shul," published by Ben Yehuda Press in 2021.

Sass and their partner, Sari-Rose Brown, just welcomed the birth of their first child, Henya. Sass loves writing songs and poems, playing long board games, and cooking their grandparents' recipes.

This year's rabbinical internship is being underwritten by a generous contribution from Regina and Don Miller.

COME ENJOY THE REDEDICATED BANKS GARDEN

by Barbara Snyder

The Banks Garden — in the courtyard accessible through the lobby in The Emanuel Synagogue — was first created in 1973 by members of the Banks family in memory of Emanuel member Goodman Banks. Every year on his yartzheit, the Banks Family make contributions to maintain the garden.

After many years as a Biblical Garden, designed by Ellen Weingold, it was redesigned (due to our climate) as a perennial garden. In August 2019, trees were cut down. The following spring, the garden was cleaned, mulched and pruned by West Hartford Landscaping. Patti Lenda from Moscarillo's Garden Shop designed the new garden and the garden shop planted two sections of perennials to integrate with the rest of the garden. Judy Silver donated "The Rising Sun Red Bud Tree" in memory of her beloved stepmother Winnie G. Miller.

Flowers bloom along the crescent-shaped wall in the Banks Garden.

Rabbi David Small recited the "Shebecheyanu" blessing at the July rededication of the Banks Garden.

This July, a rededication of the garden took place so members could see how the garden has been lovingly revived. Rabbi David Small thanked those who work diligently to keep the garden in good condition. This includes Arlan Lieblick, who started the cleanup three years ago and gives a great deal of her time and knowledge to this garden, and also her committee of volunteers — Madalyn Levy, Shirley Stengel and Barbara Snyder. Thank you to Regina Miller for providing refreshments and to Executive Director Kobi Benita and Rick Lasker of the House Committee for supporting garden efforts.

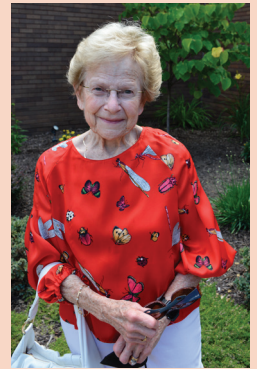

At the reception, the following letter from Sherry Banks-Cohn was read by Barbara Snyder:

My name is Sherry Banks-Cohn and I am writing this on behalf of my sister, Marilyn Banks Hamilton, and our extended families. Marilyn and I are the daughters of Goodman Banks.

We are so pleased the Emanuel Synagogue has devoted so much time and effort to maintain and enhance the garden since its first planting in 1973, following the passing of my father. This living memorial offers peaceful respite in tumultuous times, and our family is so privileged to be involved in that, in some small way. Nature draws people outside and together.

My father loved the synagogue and the support and warmth it offered our family over the years. We are grateful to the synagogue and hope the Goodman Banks Memorial Garden provides comfort and happiness to congregants for many years to come. We thank you.

*Gratefully,
Sherry Banks-Cohn*

Judy Silver donated "The Rising Sun Red Bud Tree" in memory of her stepmother.

ALL MEMBERS AND VISITORS ARE INVITED TO ENTER THE GARDEN TO RELAX ON THE BENCHES AND ENJOY THE BEAUTIFUL PLANTINGS!

In case of emergency, please be aware we now have two defibrillators in the building.

One is on the wall outside the entrance to Silverman Auditorium and one is outside Moshe Pinchover's office near the chapel.

News From The BROTHERHOOD

by Philip Thierman, President

Hello Fellow Congregants,

As I write this column, we are in the middle of summer. By the time you read this, the kids will be headed back to school and the High Holidays will be approaching. The Brotherhood has been active during the summer and has a few interesting events lined up for September and October.

Key Summer Events:

- On June 9, we honored our volunteers at the Annual Brotherhood David Rappaport Memorial Dinner. Many thanks to all who participated and to those who were recognized. Yasher Koach!
- On June 9-12, the New England Region of the FJMC held their annual retreat at Camp Ramah, in Palmer, MA. This was a successful event! Looking forward to getting more people involved from The Emanuel to attend next year's 76th annual retreat.

Upcoming Events:

- Sunday, Sept. 18 at 9:00 a.m. — Brotherhood builds the sukkah. Please give us a hand.
- Sunday, Oct. 9 at 9:30 a.m. — Brotherhood Political Forum at The Emanuel. Come listen to those running for office.
- Thursday, Oct. 13 at 6:30 p.m. — Scotch in the Sukkah

Volunteers were recognized at the annual David Rappaport Memorial Dinner, sponsored by the Brotherhood.
