

Adult Education Committee Annual Report

We said goodbye to Gail Adler as she stepped off the committee after MANY years of service. We wish her the best as she pursues her many passions. Thank you, Gail, for all you've done for this committee.

Thank you, Phil Schlossberg, for taking over as our committee liaison to the Partners in Jewish Programming (PJP) consortium.

We welcomed new members this year. Allen Landerman, Jeremy Rubock, Norberto Lemcoff, Dr. Eric Peters all joined us this year.

Rabbi Small continued to offer Natalie Ziplow classes each week.

We started the fiscal year with our clergy providing a three-part series for the High Holidays.

We supported the The Arts at The Emanuel by bringing in Dr. Stephen Fraade to speak about the history at the time of the play Domitilla.

We supported the Torah Scroll Project by bringing in Rabbi Edward Feld, who spoke about his latest book, The Book of Revolutions.

We welcomed two Israeli speakers, Yoram Ettinger and Jessica Steinberg, who gave us a glimpse into contemporary Israeli issues.

Norberto Lemcoff has worked on an Israeli film festival to be shown in the summer of 2024.

Allen Landerman and Jeremy Rubock will lead a chavurah style program, beginning with Pirkei Avot in June, 2024. They will meet monthly with new topics being decided as they expand their programming.

We supported programs through the PJP consortium. There was an 8-part series called What Jews Think, a 3-part film series and a 6-part travel series. The consortium also provided four stand-alone programs.

Respectfully submitted,

Tammi Kraushaar
